

GLOBAL SUSTAINABILITY STRATEGY

FOR PROFESSIONAL INVESTORS - MARCH 2019

"If we are to successfully address the challenges of today – and secure a prosperous and sustainable economy for tomorrow – long-term investors must rise to the occasion as 'future makers', using the leverage that our investments and our voice bring to positively influence the world around us. We relish this opportunity and look forward to partnering with our clients and financial sector peers to achieve what should be a joint aim: a sustainable future."

JANE AMBACHTSHEER

Global Head of Sustainability

"It is in the interest of our clients to build a sustainable and inclusive economy and is therefore central to our fiduciary responsibility.

Our willingness to take this on – through our investment processes and our engagement with companies, policymakers and wider society – gives us the opportunity to be a force for a better future. This is central to our firm's strategy and our ability to deliver the best long-term returns we can for our clients."

FREDERIC JANBON

CEO and Head of Investments

SUSTAINABILITY AT THE HEART

In a fast changing world, our focus is on achieving long-term, sustainable investment returns for our clients. We recognise that sustainability risks are looming large and that we, as investors, have the opportunity, indeed the obligation, to take action to help achieve the objectives of the Paris Agreement and the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

That is why we have committed to putting sustainability at the heart of our strategy, integrating sustainable investment practices across the full range of our investment strategies. We commit to being a 'future maker', using our investments, our voice and our leverage to shape a better future.

We believe this is in the financial interest of our clients and of the economy at large.

SUSTAINABLE INVESTMENT BELIEFS

BNPP AM has established six sustainable investment beliefs:

- ESG integration helps investors achieve better risk-adjusted returns. Sustainability is a long-term driver of investment risks and returns. We believe sustainability is imperfectly understood, under-researched and inefficiently priced, with inconsistent levels of disclosure. Investors will make better investment decisions if they systematically and explicitly integrate ESG factors into investment analysis and decision-making.
- Our fiduciary duty is aligned with sustainable investment. Asset managers have a duty to clients to make well-informed investment decisions, taking reputational, operational and financial risks into careful consideration. ESG factors are a key tool in doing so.
- Stewardship is an opportunity and an obligation. Long-term investors should use proxy voting, company engagement and policy advocacy to influence companies and the world for the better. We believe engagement is generally more effective than exclusion. Divestment can be a last resort.
- We are long-term, forward-looking investors. We believe the economic model which will best serve the planet in the long term is one focused on low-carbon, sustainable and inclusive growth.
- A sustainable economic future relies on sustainable investment practices. Managing ESG risks will help promote greater market stability and more sustainable long-term growth, while delivering the same, or higher, financial returns.
- Walking the talk is critical to achieving excellence. Our corporate practices and disclosures should match or exceed the standards we expect from the entities in which we invest. We should integrate sustainability across our business, including how we manage facilities and engage employees.

COMPONENTS OF SUSTAINABLE INVESTMENT

We define sustainable investment as having the four components below, which we aim to apply consistently across our full range of investment strategies:

1. ESG integration

Integrating ESG factors allows analysts and portfolio managers to identify and assess areas of risk and opportunity which not all market participants may have fully agreed and which can consequently provide them with a relative advantage. It is our goal that by 2020, every investment process – and by definition, every strategy – is aligned with our formal ESG Integration Guidelines and Policy.

2. Stewardship

As an active owner, we believe meaningful engagement enhances investment processes and better enables us to successfully manage long-term risk. This involves regular contact with issuers, emphasising long-term value creation, and meeting officials to discuss national ESG commitments and policies. It also means working closely with peers and civil society groups to formulate and communicate our vision to make a positive difference towards a low-carbon and inclusive economy.

3. Responsible business conduct and sector-based exclusions

We expect companies to meet their fundamental obligations in the areas of human and labour rights, protecting the environment and ensuring anti-corruption safeguards. We engage with companies where they fall short, and exclude the worst offenders from investment. Sector policies set out the conditions for investing in particular sectors (e.g., palm oil and wood pulp) or commit us to excluding investment in particular activities or sectors (tobacco; coal; controversial weapons; asbestos). These are generally sectors where we believe engagement makes little sense.

4. Forward-looking perspective – the '3Es'

We regard three issues as critical pre-conditions for a more sustainable and inclusive economic system – energy transition, environmental sustainability and equality and inclusive growth – and are aligning our investment research, portfolios, and company and regulatory engagements in support of each. We call these the '3Es'.

THREE CHALLENGING AREAS OF ACTION: '3ES'

Energy transition

Objective: make a substantive contribution to the low-carbon energy transition.

Environmental sustainability

Objective: improve the environmental impact of our investments.

Equality and inclusive growth

Objective: promote a more equitable and sustainable distribution of value to ensure long-term stability and resilience of societies and ecosystems.

In addition to the four components of sustainable investment, we manage EUR 37 billion (as of December 2018) in impact, thematic and socially responsible investment (SRI) strategies for those clients who wish to allocate to more specific sustainable investment opportunities.

INVESTING FOR A BETTER WORLD

We will use our investments, our voice and our leverage to shape a better future, embracing our role as part of the real economy and working for the benefit of our clients, and the benefit of all.

Our Global Sustainability Strategy is concentrated on those areas where we believe we can have the most impact given our core business: investing.

In considering our approach to the '3Es' (energy transition, environmental sustainability, equality and inclusive growth) we have a range of tools at hand: investment, divestment, stewardship and integration.

- We can invest in the companies and sectors that are part of the solution, encouraging their growth and benefiting from their success through our allocation of capital.
- We can divest from those companies that we believe are at risk from inevitable structural changes, and whose behaviour differs too much from our beliefs and investor preferences.
- We can exercise investor stewardship through proxy voting and engagement – and via discussions with policymakers, regulators and governments.

- We integrate our knowledge of and perspectives on the '3Es' into investment processes across asset classes, thus helping to protect and enhance investment outcomes.

JOIN US IN BEING A FUTURE MAKER

The financial sector carries a significant responsibility: it is entrusted with managing people's savings and retirement assets. But our responsibility goes beyond that: we have the potential to influence the behaviour of entities that we invest in as well as the regulatory framework in which we operate.

The current economic, social and environmental system is failing and must be transformed in order for financial institutions to be able to deliver sustainable returns to clients over the long term.

We are committed to using the financial capital we manage on behalf of clients, as well as our human capital, to push towards a more sustainable future. This will benefit investment returns, clients, our employees and society at large. It is by working together that the financial community has the greatest opportunity to be a force for positive change – to be 'future makers'.

"Our ambition is to continually improve our sustainability footprint and investment practices for all of the assets we manage. We believe this will help achieve the best ultimate investment outcomes, supporting effective investment decision making in the short and medium term, while using our leverage to build sustainable economic, environmental, and social systems in the long term."
